UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

LHF PRODUCTIONS, INC,

Plaintiff,

v.

DOE 1, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. C16-551RSM

ORDER GRANTING IN PART LHF’S
MOTIONS FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT

I. INTRODUCTION

This matter comes before the Court on Plaintiff LHF Productions, Inc.’s (“LHF”) Motion for Default Judgment against Kdaya Johnson (Dkt. #59), Motion for Default Judgment Against Theresa Penny (Dkt. #61), Motion for Default Judgment Against Scott Swiberg (Dkt. #63), and Motion for Default Judgment Against Thomas Kinison (Dkt. #65). Having reviewed the relevant briefing and the remainder of the record, LHF’s motions for default judgment (Dkts. #59, #61, #63, and #65) are GRANTED IN PART for the reasons discussed below.

II. BACKGROUND

2 LHF's motions for default judgment are just a portion of more than fifty default
3 judgment motions filed by LHF in ten of sixteen related cases before the Court.<sup>1</sup> All sixteen
4 cases assert the same cause of action. LHF alleges that close to two hundred named defendants
5 unlawfully infringed its exclusive copyright to the motion picture London Has Fallen, which it
6 developed and produced, by copying and distributing the film over the Internet through a peer-
7 to-peer network using the BitTorrent protocol. Dkt. #13 ¶¶ 1. Plaintiff uncovered the identities
8 of the alleged infringers after serving several internet service providers ("ISP"s) with 9 subpoenas issued by the Court. Amended complaints identifying the alleged infringers were 10 subsequently filed. Defendants were named in the same Amended Complaint because, given 11 the unique identifier associated with a particular digital copy of London Has Fallen, along with 12 the timeframe when the internet protocol address associated with a named defendant accessed 13 that unique identifier, LHF alleges the Defendants were all part of the same "swarm" of users
14 that reproduced, distributed, displayed, and/or performed the copyrighted work. Dkt. #13 ¶¶
15 10, 35-36, 41, 46. According to LHF, "[t]he temporal proximity of the observed acts of each
16 Defendant, together with the known propensity of BitTorrent participants to actively exchange
17 files continuously for hours and even days, makes it possible that Defendants either directly 18 exchanged the motion picture with each other, or did so through intermediaries . . . ." Dkt. #13 19 at 10-15.

21 In the instant action, Defendants Johnson, Penny, Swiberg, and Kinison (collectively
22 "Defendants") did not respond to LHF's Amended Complaint. The Court entered default
23 against Defendant Johnson and Defendant Swiberg on September 29, 2016, after both parties

C16-864RSM, C16-865RSM, C16-1015RSM, C16-1017RSM, C16-1175RSM, C16-1089RSM,
C16-1090RSM, C16-1273RSM, C16-1354RSM, C16-1588RSM, and C16-1648RSM.

1 failed to respond to LHF's Amended Complaint. See Dkts. #41 and #42. Default against 2 Defendant Kinison was entered on October 4, 2016, and default against Defendant Penny was 3 later entered on November 28, 2016, after both defendants also failed to respond. Dkts. #48
4 and #57. LHF's motions for default judgment against Defendants are now before the Court.

5 6 III. DISCUSSION

7 Based on this Court's Order of Default and pursuant to Rule 55(a), the Court has the 8 authority to enter a default judgment. Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(b). However, prior to entering default
9 judgment, the Court must determine whether the well-pleaded allegations of a plaintiff's
10 complaint establish a defendant's liability. Eitel v. McCool, 782 F.2d 1470, 1471-72 (9th Cir.
11 1986). In making this determination, courts must accept the well-pleaded allegations of a 12 complaint, except those related to damage amounts, as established fact. Televideo Sys., Inc. v.
13 Heidenthal, 826 F.2d 915, 917-18 (9th Cir. 1987). If those facts establish liability the court
14 may, but has no obligation to, enter a default judgment against a defendant. Alan Neuman
15 Prods. Inc. v. Albright, 862 F.2d 1388, 1392 (9th Cir. 1988) ("Clearly, the decision to enter a 16 default judgment is discretionary."). Plaintiffs must provide the court with evidence to 17 establish the propriety of a particular sum of damages sought. Televideo, 826 F.2d at 917-18.

18 19 A. Liability Determination.

20
21 The allegations in LHF's Amended Complaint establish Defendants' liability for 22 copyright infringement. To establish copyright infringement, LHF must demonstrate 23 ownership of a valid copyright and that Defendants copied "constituent elements of the work 24 that are original." L.A. Printex Indus., Inc. v. Aeropostale, Inc., 676 F.3d 841, 846 (9th Cir.
25 2012) (quoting Feist Publ'ns, Inc. v. Rural Tel. Serv. Co., 499 U.S. 340, 361 (1991)). Here, 26 LHF alleges it owns the exclusive copyright to the motion picture London Has Fallen. Dkt.
27
28

1 #13 ¶¶ 5-9. LHF also alleges that Defendants all participated in the same “swarm” that
2 unlawfully copied and/or distributed the same digital copy of London Has Fallen. Id. ¶¶ 10, 3 36, 41, 46. Because Defendants did not respond to LHF’s complaint, the Court must accept the 4 allegations in LHF’s Amended Complaint as true. See Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 8(b)(6). Accordingly,
5 LHF has established Defendants’ liability.

6
7 B. Default Judgment is Warranted.

8 The Court must next determine whether to exercise discretion to enter a default
9 judgment. Courts consider the following factors in making this determination:

10 “(1) the possibility of prejudice to the plaintiff, (2) the merits of plaintiff’s 11 substantive claim, (3) the sufficiency of the complaint, (4) the sum of money at 12 stake in the action; (5) the possibility of a dispute concerning material facts; (6)
13 whether the default was due to excusable neglect, and (7) the strong policy
14 underlying the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure favoring decisions on the merits.”
Eitel, 782 F.2d at 1471-72.

15 The majority of these factors weigh in favor of granting default judgment against 16 Defendants. LHF may be prejudiced without the entry of default judgment as it will be left 17 without a legal remedy. See Landstar Ranger, Inc. v. Parth Enters, Inc., 725 F. Supp. 2d 916, 18 920 (C.D. Cal. 2010) (finding plaintiff would suffer prejudice where denying default judgment 19 would leave plaintiff without remedy). LHF’s Amended Complaint is also sufficient, and 20 Defendants did not present any evidence or argument to the contrary. Additionally, the Court
21 finds there is a low probability that default against Defendants was due to excusable neglect;
22 Defendants were given ample opportunity to respond to the filings in this matter between the 23 time they were served with LHF’s Amended Complaint and when LHF filed its motions for 24 default judgment. See Dkts. #27, #32, #33, and #54. Finally, although there is a strong policy 25 favoring decisions on the merits, the Court may consider Defendants’ failure to respond to 26 LHF’s Amended Complaint and its subsequent motions as an admission that LHF’s motions
27
28

1 have merit. See Local Civil Rule 7(b)(2) (“[I]f a party fails to file papers in opposition to a 2 motion, such failure may be considered by the court as an admission that the motion has 3 merit.”).

4         However, the Court acknowledges that a dispute concerning the material facts alleged 5 by LHF may arise. See Qotd Film Inv. Ltd. v. Starr, No. C16-0371RSL, 2016 WL 5817027, at 6 *2 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 5, 2016) (acknowledging that dispute concerning material facts may arise
7 in BitTorrent infringement cases). The Court also acknowledges that the amount at stake is 8 not, as LHF contends, modest – LHF seeks enhanced statutory damages in the amount of 9 $2,500 along with $2,605.50 in attorneys’ fees, and amounts ranging between $90 and $150 in 10 costs, for each named Defendant in this matter. Notwithstanding these considerations, the Eitel
11 factors weigh in favor of granting default judgment against Defendants.
12

14         C. Appropriate Relief.

15         The Court next considers what relief to grant LHF. LHF seeks the following three 16 categories of relief from each defendant: (1) permanent injunctive relief; (2) statutory damages;
17 and (3) attorney’s fees and costs. Each category is discussed in turn below.
18

19                 i. Permanent Injunctive Relief

20         Permanent injunctive relief is proper in this matter. Section 502(a) of Title 17 of the 21 United States Code allows courts to “grant temporary and final injunctions on such terms as it
22 may deem reasonable to prevent or restrain infringement of a copyright.” As part of a default 23 judgment, courts may also order the destruction of all copies of a work made or used in 24 violation of a copyright owner’s exclusive rights. 17 U.S.C. § 503(b). Given the nature of the 25 BitTorrent system, and because Defendants have been found liable for infringement, the Court
26 finds Defendants possess the means to continue infringing in the future. See MAI Sys. Corp. v.
27
28

1 Peak Comput., Inc., 991 F.2d 511, 520 (9th Cir. 1993) (granting permanent injunction where 2 “liability has been established and there is a threat of continuing violations.”). Consequently,
3 the Court GRANTS LHF’s request for a permanent injunction against Defendants. The Court
4 will issue a permanent injunction enjoining Defendants from infringing LHF’s rights in London
5 Has Fallen. The Court will also order Defendants to destroy all unauthorized copies of London
6 Has Fallen.
7

8 ii. Statutory Damages

9 The Court will also award LHF $750 in statutory damages for Defendants’ infringement
10 of the same “seed” file of London Has Fallen. The Copyright Act allows plaintiffs to choose
11 between actual or statutory damages. See 17 U.S.C. §§ 504(b), (c)(1). The range of statutory 12 damages allowed for all infringements involved in an action, with respect to any one work for 13 which any two or more infringers are jointly and severally liable, is $750 to $30,000.
14 17 U.S.C. §504(c)(1). District courts have “wide discretion in determining the amount of 15 statutory damages to be awarded, constrained only by the specified maxima and minima,” and 16 they can take into account whether “the recovery sought is proportional to the harm caused by 17 defendant’s conduct.” Harris v. Emus Records Corp., 734 F.2d 1329, 1355 (9th Cir. 1984); 18 Curtis v. Illumination Arts, Inc., 33 F. Supp. 3d 1200, 1212 (W.D. Wash. 2014) (quoting 19 Landstar, 725 F. Supp. 2d at 921). Because the named Defendants in this action were alleged 20 to have conspired with one another to infringe the same digital copy of LHF’s motion picture, 21 the Court will award the sum of $750 for Defendants’ infringement of the same digital copy of 22 London Has Fallen. Each of the Defendants is jointly and severally liable for this amount.
23
25

26 LHF argues that a statutory damage award of $2,500 per defendant should be awarded.
27 The Court is not persuaded. Statutory damages are not intended to serve as a windfall to 28

1 plaintiffs, and enhanced statutory damages are not warranted where plaintiffs do not even try to 2 demonstrate actual damages. Additionally, the Court notes that LHF has not shown that any of 3 the Defendants is responsible for the “seed” file that provided LHF’s copyrighted work on the 4 BitTorrent network, and LHF has not presented evidence that Defendants profited from the 5 infringement.

6
7 LHF’s additional attempts to justify imposing enhanced statutory damages are also 8 unpersuasive. See Dkts. #59 at 5-6, #61 at 5-6, #63 at 5-6, and #65 at 5-6. In support of an 9 enhanced award, LHF argues that minimum statutory awards fail to accomplish the goals of the 10 Copyright Act; LHF argues that defendants are actually encouraged to disregard court
11 summons and take default judgments when courts award minimum statutory damages. Id. The 12 Court is not convinced. As noted in other BitTorrent cases within this jurisdiction, “[p]laintiff 13 offers no support for the proposition that participation in federal litigation should be compelled 14 by imposing draconian penalties that are out of proportion to the harm caused” by a defendant’s
15 actions. Qotd Film, 2016 WL 5817027, at *3, n.2.

18 LHF also cites to tweets which appear to mock statutory minimum awards in other 19 BitTorrent cases. See Dkts. #60, Exs. C and D, #62, Exs. C and D, #64, Exs. C and D, #66, 20 Exs. C and D. The Court is not persuaded that viewpoints of individuals not named as 21 defendants in this matter should be attributed to Defendants. LHF has presented no evidence
22 that Defendants in this case will not be dissuaded from infringing in the future. Many barriers
23 to accessing and understanding the legal system exist, and the Court refuses, absent evidence to 24 the contrary, to adopt the position advocated by LHF. The Court “is [thus] not persuaded that a 25 higher award is appropriate simply because certain members of the BitTorrent community are 26
27
28

1 not impressed by a $750 award against someone they do not know.” Qotd Film, 2016 WL
2 5817027, at *3.

3 iii. Attorneys’ Fees and Costs

4 Finally, LHF asks the Court to award $2,605.50 in attorneys’ fees, and amounts ranging 5 between $90 and $150 in costs, against each named defendant in this matter. Dkts. #60 ¶ 10, 6 #62 ¶ 10, #64 ¶ 10, #66 ¶ 10. Pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, the Court “in its discretion may 7 allow the recovery of full costs by or against any party,” and “may also award a reasonable 8 attorney’s fee to the prevailing party as part of the costs.”
9

10 The Court agrees that LHF should be awarded attorneys’ fees. Courts consider several 11 factors, including “(1) the degree of success obtained, (2) frivolousness, (3) motivation, (4) 12 objective unreasonableness (legal and factual), and (5) the need to advance considerations of 13 compensation and deterrence,” when making attorneys’ fee determinations under the Copyright
14 Act. Smith v. Jackson, 84 F.3d 1213, 1221 (9th Cir. 1996) (citing Jackson v. Axton, 25 F.3d 15 884, 890 (9th Cir. 1994)). Because LHF has succeeded on its non-frivolous claims, and 16 because an award would advance considerations of compensation and deterrence, LHF is 17 entitled to attorneys’ fees.
18

19 However, LHF’s attorneys’ fees request is problematic. Courts determine fee award
20 amounts by first determining a “lodestar figure,” which is obtained by multiplying the number 21 of hours reasonably expended on a matter by the reasonable hourly rate. Intel Corp. v.
22 Terabyte Int’l, Inc., 6 F.3d 614, 622 (9th Cir. 1993). Courts may then adjust the lodestar with 23 reference to factors set forth in Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 69-70 (9th Cir.
24 1975). The relevant Kerr factors here are: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and 25 difficulty of the questions; and (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal services properly.
26
27
28

1 “The lodestar amount presumably reflects the novelty and complexity of the issues, the special 2 skill and experience of counsel, the quality of representation, and the results obtained from the 3 litigation.” Intel, 6 F.3d at 622. Given the nature of the work done by attorney David A. Lowe,
4 the Court does not find LHF’s requested hourly rate, or the number of hours requested, to be 5 reasonable.

6
7 1. Reasonableness of Rate Requested

8 In the Ninth Circuit, the determination of a reasonable hourly rate “is not made by 9 reference to rates actually charged the prevailing party.” Chalmers v. City of Los Angeles, 796
10 F.2d 1205 (9th Cir. 1986). Instead, the reasonable hourly rate is determined with reference to 11 the prevailing rates charged by attorneys of comparable skill and experience in the relevant
12 community. See Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895 (1984). “Generally, when determining a 13 reasonable hourly rate, the relevant community is the forum in which the district court sits.”
14 Camacho v. Bridgeport Fin., Inc., 523 F.3d 973, 979 (9th Cir. 2008). Courts may also consider 15 “rate determinations in other cases, particularly those setting a rate for the plaintiffs’ attorney”
16 as “satisfactory evidence of the prevailing market rate.” United Steelworkers of Am. v. Phelps
17 Dodge Corp., 896 F.2d 403, 407 (9th Cir. 1990).

19
20 Here, Mr. Lowe argues that $450 is a reasonable rate for his work. However, Mr. Lowe 21 does not present any evidence that this is the prevailing rate in this community, and similar 22 cases in this District suggest that a lower rate is appropriate. See Qotd Film, 2016 WL 5817027 23 at *3-4 (refusing to award requested rate of $450 where counsel did not present evidence that 24 this was prevailing community rate). Notably, in two unrelated BitTorrent cases litigated by 25 Mr. Lowe, courts in this District have awarded Mr. Lowe a rate of $350 and $300 for work
26 similar, if not identical, to the work done in this matter. See Id. (reducing counsel’s hourly rate
27
28

1 to $350); also Dallas Buyers Club, LLC v. Nydam, et al., 2016 WL 7719874, at *5-6 (W.D.
2 Wash. August 8, 2016) (reducing counsel’s hourly rate to $300). In Dallas Buyers Club, the 3 Court reasoned that an hourly rate of $300 is far more appropriate because the cases litigated by 4 Mr. Lowe did not require extensive skill or experience. 2016 WL 7719847 at *6. Indeed, it
5 appears that in litigating Dallas Buyers Club, Mr. Lowe, similar to his actions in this case,
6 recycled pleadings used in other cases and encountered little or no opposition from the named
7 defendants. Id. Given that Mr. Lowe’s work in this matter amounts to nothing more than form
8 pleading, the Court adopts the reasoning of other BitTorrent cases in this District and will 9 reduce Mr. Lowe’s hourly rate to $300.
10

11 2. Reasonableness of Hours Requested

12
13 Turning to the reasonableness of the hours requested, the Court notes the party seeking 14 fees “bears the burden of establishing entitlement to an award and documenting the appropriate 15 hours expended and hourly rates.” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 437 (1983). The Court 16 also excludes hours that are not reasonably expended because they are “excessive, redundant, 17 or otherwise unnecessary.” Id. at 434. Further, the Ninth Circuit has held that it is reasonable 18 for a district court to conclude that the party seeking attorney’s fees fails to carry its burden of 19 documenting the hours expended when that party engages in “block billing” because block 20 billing makes it more difficult to determine how much time was spent on particular activities.
21 Welch v. Metro. Life Ins. Co., 480 F.3d 942, 948 (9th Cir. 2007).

24 Mr. Lowe requests an unreasonable number of hours. In support of his attorneys’ fees
25 request, Mr. Lowe has submitted four, nearly identical, declarations requesting compensation
26 for 3.8 hours he allegedly spent on each named Defendant. Dkts. #60 ¶ 10, #62 ¶ 10, #64 ¶ 10,
27 #66 ¶ 10. Mr. Lowe also requests fees for the 1.9 hours his associate attorney spent on each 28

1 named Defendant (at an hourly rate of $250), and fees for the 2.9 hours his legal assistant spent
2 on each named Defendant (at an hourly rate of $145). Id. Mr. Lowe's activity within this 3 District underscores the unreasonableness of this request.

4 Since April 2016, Mr. Lowe has filed sixteen cases, each naming LHF as plaintiff,
5 against hundreds of Doe Defendants.<sup>2</sup> These cases have all proceeded in a similar manner.
6 Each of the complaints originally filed in these sixteen cases lists Doe Defendants, identified
7 only by IP addresses, and alleges infringement of LHF's exclusive rights in the motion picture
8 London Has Fallen. Groups of Doe Defendants are named in the same complaint because they 9 allegedly infringed the same digital copy of London Has Fallen by participating in the same
10 BitTorrent "swarm." After nearly identical complaints were filed, LHF, in all sixteen cases,
11 filed nearly identical motions for expedited discovery. Once the Court granted LHF's motions
12 for expedited discovery, LHF then served subpoenas on the ISPs associated with each Doe
13 Defendant's IP address. Once the ISPs provided LHF with the Doe Defendants' identities, 14 LHF filed amended complaints. Except for the paragraphs identifying the Doe Defendants, all
15 of the amended complaints are identical. As of the filing of this Order, LHF has named 181
16 defendants.
17
18
19

20 After amending its complaints, LHF voluntarily dismissed claims against some named 21 defendants. If a claim is not settled, LHF continues to pursue its claim against the named 22 defendants. Many of the remaining defendants have not answered LHF's amended complaints.
23 A named defendant's failure to respond to LHF's amended complaints then prompts LHF to 24 file a motion for default. To date the Court has granted fifty-eight of LHF's motions for default 25 in eleven of LHF's sixteen cases; LHF is still awaiting response from named defendants in the 26

27 <sup>2</sup> See Case Nos. C16-551RSM, C16-552RSM, C16-621RSM, C16-623RSM, C16-731RSM,
28 C16-864RSM, C16-865RSM, C16-1015RSM, C16-1175RSM, C16-1017RSM, C16-1089RSM,
C16-1090RSM, C16-1273RSM, C16-1354RSM, C16-1588RSM, C16-1648RSM.

1 five remaining cases. Except for the captions, the motions for default are identical. After the 2 Court grants LHF's motions for default, LHF files nearly identical motions for default 3 judgment.

4 While there is nothing wrong with LHF's filing of several infringement claims, it is 5 wrong for LHF's counsel to file identical complaints and motions with the Court and then 6 expect the Court to believe that it spent hundreds of hours preparing those same complaints and 7 motions. See Malibu Media, LLC v. Schelling, 31 F. Supp. 3d 910, 912-13 (E.D. Mich. 2014)
8 (“If Malibu Media is experiencing a massive invasion of infringers, it is entitled to seek redress
9 through the courts.”). In this case, Mr. Lowe would have the Court believe that he alone spent
10 185 hours in preparing the filings of the fifty-one named Defendants against whom default
11 judgment is now sought. This extravagant number of hours does not include the 138.6 hours 12 claimed by Mr. Lowe's associate attorney, or the 130.4 hours attributed to Mr. Lowe's legal 13 assistant.

14 There is nothing unique, or complex, about engaging in what can only be described as 15 “the essence of form pleading,” and the Court will not condone unreasonable attorneys' fees 16 requests. Malibu, 31 F. Supp. 3d at 912-13 (“[T]here is nothing unique about this case against 17 [defendant], it is quite a stretch to suggest that drafting and preparing the complaint for filing
18 took more than an hour, or that 1.3 hours were spent on drafting a motion for default 19 judgment.”). Here, aside from requesting an unbelievable number of hours, Mr. Lowe has also 20 engaged in the practice of block billing. See Dkts. #60 ¶ 10, #62 ¶ 10, #64 ¶ 10, #66 ¶ 10.
21 Given this practice, the Court cannot adequately determine the amount of time spent on several 22 of the tasks Mr. Lowe requests compensation for. However, even if he had not engaged in this 23 practice, the Court finds it hard to believe that Mr. Lowe and his associate attorney spent 24
