Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 58(a), the Court hereby ENTERS THIS SEPARATE FINAL JUDGMENT.

Accordingly, it is hereby ORDERED and ADJUDGED that Final Default Judgment is hereby entered in favor of Plaintiffs and against Luis Fermin Gil Alphand, Edgar Cristian Olvera Salazar, and Inndomanagement (the "ThunderTV Defendants"); Juan Antonio López García, Jose Luis Guadarrama Torres (the "SunsetTV Defendants") (López García, Guadarrama Torres), and Alberto García Leal (the "Tele Latino Defendant") (collectively, "Defendants") as follows.

I. PERMANENT INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.

A. For purposes of the PERMANENT INJUNCTION set forth below, "Infringing IPTV Services" means the "Infringing IPTV Services" and "Associated Infringing IPTV Services" identified in Schedule A attached hereto (including all IP addresses, domains, applications, and server infrastructure listed therein), and any comparable system — meaning any device, application, data transmission service, or platform, whether currently in existence or developed in the future, through which Defendants or those acting in concert or participation with them provide users with unauthorized access to Plaintiffs' copyrighted work or programming, including 2026 FIFA World Cup content and La Casa de Los Famosos, including by means of any Internet-based transmission, peer-to-peer or BitTorrent protocol, content delivery technology, or sideloading mechanism, regardless of the branding, domain name, or technical configuration used.

B. This Order shall apply not only to the specific acts, products, services, methods, or instrumentalities identified herein, but also to any future acts, products, services, methods, or instrumentalities that are no more than colorably different from those expressly prohibited. Schedule A is expressly adopted and incorporated as part of this Order. Plaintiffs' investigation into the unauthorized activities is continuing and Plaintiffs are in communication with certain third-party service providers who are not listed in Schedule A. The Court retains jurisdiction of this matter for purposes of Plaintiffs' enforcement to prevent further acts of infringement by Defendants, and those with actual notice of this Order who are in active concert or participation with Defendants. Specifically, Plaintiffs may supplement Schedule A by filing a verified declaration identifying additional infringing services, IP addresses, domains, applications, or platforms, which supplementation shall take effect immediately upon filing and service.

C. A PERMANENT INJUNCTION is ENTERED and Defendants and their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and all persons in active concert or participation with them are ENJOINED and RESTRAINED as follows:

1. From reproducing, distributing, publicly performing, or publicly displaying any of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works or other works for which Plaintiffs own a license, including without limitation all broadcasts, programs, and content relating to the 2026 FIFA World Cup, any subsequent FIFA events, and any copyrighted works or broadcasts that Plaintiffs may in the future produce, license, or acquire rights to transmit;

2. From using any of Plaintiffs' trademarks or any confusingly similar marks in connection with any goods or services;

3. From operating, hosting, providing encoding or transcoding services for, providing content delivery network or reverse proxy services to, providing middleware or subscriber management platforms for, providing electronic storage, data center or colocation, primary or backup storage, or back-end services for, providing peer-to-peer or BitTorrent distribution infrastructure for, or otherwise providing technical services in support of the Infringing IPTV Services or any comparable system that infringes Plaintiffs' intellectual property, including by means of any Internet-based transmission, peer-to-peer protocol, content delivery, sideloading, or file sharing technology;

4. From interfering in any way with Plaintiffs' exclusive rights to broadcast the 2026 World Cup and any subsequent FIFA events, including without limitation by capturing TU's licensed broadcast signal from Mexico and Latin America and retransmitting it or by advertising, promoting, facilitating, reselling, distributing through any reseller or distributor panel, distributing via sideloading applications or numerical short codes, or providing any support whatsoever for such activities;

5. From engaging in any other activity constituting infringement of Plaintiffs' copyrights or trademarks;

6. From processing, facilitating, or receiving any payment, subscription fee, reseller credit, or other monetary transaction in connection with the Infringing IPTV Services, and from maintaining or using any bank account, digital wallet, payment processing service, cryptocurrency wallet, or money transmitter for such purposes; and

7. From placing, serving, brokering, or facilitating any advertisement on or in connection with the Infringing IPTV Services or any website, application, or social media account promoting them;

8. Defendants shall disable and take down all Infringing IPTV Services and surrender or destroy all infringing materials in their possession, custody, or control.

9. Defendants and all persons and entities with notice of this Order shall preserve all records, data, subscriber lists, financial records, server logs, application source code, and communications relating to the Infringing IPTV Services. Any destruction, alteration, or concealment of such records shall constitute contempt of this Order.

10. Further, upon Plaintiffs' request, those in active concert and participation with Defendants and those with notice of the injunction, including without limitation Internet Service Providers (ISPs); web hosts; Internet infrastructure support entities; content delivery network providers; reverse proxy services; cloud service providers, infrastructure-as-a-service providers; bare-metal and dedicated server providers; encoding, transcoding, and signal-capture service providers; middleware and IPTV panel management platforms (including but not limited to Stalker/Ministra Pro and comparable systems); sideloading facilitation applications and their distribution platforms; advertising networks and programmatic ad exchanges; website owners and operators; social media owners and operators; telecommunications app owners or operators; app stores; payment processing and other financial services companies; Internet search engines, domain-name registrars, and domain name registries and/or their administrators that are provided with notice of the injunction, shall immediately:

    a. disable access to and otherwise cease providing support of any kind to any or all Internet-based or other platforms, websites, apps, domains, marketplaces, or other platform of any kind used to copy, distribute, perform, advertise, or promote content that infringes Plaintiffs' copyrights or trademarks or interferes in any way with Plaintiffs' exclusive rights to broadcast the 2026 World Cup and any other content infringing Plaintiffs' copyrights and/or trademarks, including without limitation all IP addresses, fallback nodes, failover servers, and mirror domains identified in Schedule A hereto, all of which shall be disabled simultaneously; and all future service providers shall disable all IP addresses used to transmit any of the infringing content on the Infringing IPTV Services, which IP addresses may be reassigned to other customers after they have been disabled and are no longer being used in connection with any of the enjoined activities;

    b. remove/unmask any privacy shield or other mechanisms that shield the identity of the owner or operator of any Internet-based or other platforms, websites, apps, domains, marketplaces, or other platform of any kind used to copy, distribute, perform, advertise, or promote content that infringes Plaintiffs' copyrights or trademarks or interferes in any way with Plaintiffs' exclusive rights to broadcast the 2026 World Cup, and disclose to Plaintiffs the true identities and contact information of those registrants/website owners and operators; and

    c. otherwise cooperate with Plaintiffs to prevent the further unauthorized display and distribution of Plaintiffs' copyrighted content and the unauthorized interception, display, and distribution of TU's licensed broadcast signal, including of the 2026 World Cup.

    c. provide all account transactions related to funds transmitted into the restrained accounts;

    d. provide the true identities, complete contact information, and all known aliases and associated email addresses of all account holders; and

    e. cease processing any further transactions in connection with the Infringing IPTV Services;

13. All application distribution platforms and sideloading facilitation services, including but not limited to Roku Channel Store and the AFTVnews Downloader application, upon receiving notice of this Order, shall immediately remove and prevent the re-listing of all applications associated with the Infringing IPTV Services, and any application accessible via numerical short codes 793895, 4605585, 5317131, or any successor codes, and shall disable access to such applications on all devices where they have been installed.

14. Defendants and those with notice of this Order shall not transfer ownership of or register any new domain names used in connection with the Infringing IPTV Services and, at Plaintiffs' election, any domain name registrars or registries or others with access or control of said domain names are hereby ordered to delete, cancel, disable, and/or transfer to Plaintiffs any such domain names so that they may no longer be used for unlawful purposes.

15. Defendants and those with notice of this Order shall not host or otherwise support any website or app used in connection with the Infringing IPTV Services and, at Plaintiffs' election, any Internet Service Providers or others with access, support, or control of said websites are hereby ordered to disable access to such websites so that they may no longer be used for unlawful purposes.

II. FUTURE INFRINGEMENT AND JOHN DOES

In addition to the injunctive relief set forth above, and without limiting the scope of enforcement against those acting in concert or participation with Defendants:

A. C. Any person or entity who operates, supports, or provides services to any IPTV service, streaming platform, or content delivery system that (i) provides unauthorized access to Plaintiffs' copyrighted content, (ii) uses substantially similar technology, infrastructure, or operational methods as the Infringing IPTV Services, or (iii) targets the same or substantially similar subscriber base, shall be subject to this Order upon Plaintiffs' filing of a verified declaration establishing such colorable similarity, without need for additional joinder or amendment.

D. Plaintiffs may, without further leave of Court, supplement the caption of this action to add as John Doe Defendants any person or entity discovered to be engaged in any of the conduct prohibited by this Order. Upon filing of a verified declaration identifying such John Doe and the basis for Plaintiffs' belief that such John Doe is engaged in prohibited conduct, such John Doe shall be immediately subject to this Order pending identification and service. VI. Associated Infringing IPTV Services

The following brands and domains are part of the same infringing network and infrastructure as the Infringing IPTV Services identified previously. XuperTV is a “white label” brand operated from the same centralized ‘Magis TV’ trunk infrastructure as Tele Latino and Oleada TV—sharing the same codebase, the same application update servers, and coordinated Cloudflare DNS administration. Tarjeta Roja, Pirlo TV, Roja Directa, RBTV, and Strikeout operate unauthorized live-sports streaming portals within the same ecosystem, frequently cross-referencing one another and resolving through shared Cloudflare infrastructure and overlapping registrar and hosting accounts. Black Eye and Bargain TV Service are Thunder's mirror applications, operated from the same centralized infrastructure, that provide unauthorized access to TU's copyrighted works and programming, including exclusive La Casa de Los Famosos broadcasts. Each domain identified below is associated with this same network of Infringing IPTV Services.
